

We'll be alright

Don't cry, I'm here.
Everything is alright.
Maybe the end's near,
And all we find is starlight.

But no more tears,
As long as we're together,
We'll find a way to live
beyond our fears,
believing in forever,
With nothing left to forgive.

I don't know what may be,
Where morning leads the way,
I just hope that we can share at least one more day.

But if our end is right here,
And we're lost in the night,
Just hold me tight.
When you're with me,
I know we'll be alright.

Why can't we go back to where it started?

Sometimes we grow from all the things we parted.

In the realm of dreams,
I dreamed you would be waiting for me.

I always will.

And as it seems, I miss you in my painting.
There's a place for you still.

I don't know what may be,
Where morning leads the way,
I just hope that we can share at least one more day.

But if our end is right here,
And we're lost in the night,
Just hold me tight.
When you're with me,
I know we'll be alright.

I've never seen a star that falls from the sky.

Just hold my hand... and see it with me.

It's coming closer as we reunify
At last together, for eternity

I don't know what may be, where morning leads the way.

But if our end is right here,
And we're lost in the night,
Just hold me tight.
When you're with me,
I know we'll be alright.

When you're with me,
I know we'll be alright.
